

GREENVILLE TOOL & DIE OPENS THE DOOR TO SKILLED TRADE

Greenville Tool & Die hosted the Montcalm Area Career Center Welding Class (above right) and the Belding Robotics Class (above left) to a tour of our facilities last month. Pewamo-Westphalia high school student Caleb Smith (bottom left) participated in a job shadowing experience with GTD. All of these students received a demonstration of the complete die making process including simulation, surfacing, design, toolpathing, CNC 5 axis milling, die tryout and assembly. Find more photos from the tours on our Facebook page. Thank you all for your interest. Die making is a skilled trade and our employees are professional craftsmen. Individuals who choose this occupation open up incredible opportunities for high-paying positions with lasting job security. Contact Greenville Tool & Die today to learn more or schedule a tour/job shadow.
